BARONS WANT TIME TO ANSWER

Miners Proposal to Submit Difference to Arbitration.

The Idea Is General That the Operators Will Refuse the Proposition Made.

THE PRESENT CONDITIONS.

New York, April 6.—Pending a decision by the anthracite operators as to whether they will or will not accept the miners' proposal for arbitration of their differences the question of peace or war in the hard coal fields hangs in the balance. The operators' decision is to be made known at a meeting of the miners and the operators next Monday. Intimations are not lacking this morning that the operators will refuse to submit the differences to the arbitration board.

The miners' proposition was yesterday afternoon read to the operators by Mitchell and along with it he submitted the original demands of the miners, the reply of the operators in which they proposed the strike commission award be renewed and continued for three years, and a letter of Governor Pennypacker, who urged both parties to make reasonable efforts to come to an agreement. The conference of the sub-committees lasted less than an hour, and at its conclusion, the operators held a meeting to informally discuss the miners' offer. Later they issued a statement in which they briefly stated the demands made by the miners and their reply.

The operators at their meeting decided that before they would frame a reply to the miners they would first consult all interests in order to get the sentiment of the heads of all coal carrying roads, as well as that of the independent operators, and Monday was set as the day when their answer would be given.

It was stated at the miners' headquarters that if the operators agree to arbitrate a call will be sent out at once for a convention of miners at which instructions would be adopted, if they ratify the arbitration plan, for the miners to return to work immediately.

Regarded in Varying Light.

Philadelphia, April 6.—In the anthracite region, the arbitration proposition, made by the miners during the conference at New York is regarded in varying lights by the different interests involved. Those of the operators in the region who could be induced to venture an opinion expressed the belief it will not be accepted. Various reasons for its rejection are advanced among them. An official of the Mine Workers' union at Scranton said:

"Operators have been flooding the papers and magazines with facts and figures to prove what an excellent institution is the board of conciliation. Now, Mitchell has put it up to them to accept his proposition or admit they did not mean all the nice things they said about the board of conciliation. Mitchell has them up a tree and they have got to come to his terms."

W. L. Connell, of Scranton, chairman of the board of conciliation, stated that if the matter was submitted to the board, he was willing to accept the task and presumed the other members were of the same mind.

Soft Coal District Getting Normal.

Pittsburg, April 6.—Gradually the controversial situation in the soft coal mining field is assuming a normal aspect, especially in the Pittsburg district. Forty-three mines of Pittsburg Coal company are in operation and it is expected it will be but a few days more when all the mines in this district, including the independents will be in operation.

The independent operators of this district, who Tuesday night formed an organization to carry on their fight against granting the new scale, will hold another meeting tonight and it is expected that in view of the increase of mines in operation, the independents will decide to sign the scale. Seven independents who refused to join the action of the others Tuesday night signed the scale yesterday.

At Roscoe, Pa., twenty-five hundred miners have returned to work while Irwin, Somerset and Johnstown still remain threatening storm centers. All the mines of the Somerset Coal company are being run as usual. More men returned to work at Johnstown and several mines were reported in operation, the injunction prayed out by the coal companies having had a pacific effect.

Winder, Too, Wants Arbitration. Indianapolis, Ind., April 6.—John H. Winder, leader of the bituminous standpat operators, telegraphed President Roosevelt and President Mitchell today that the bituminous operators of Ohio propose to settle the strike in the bituminous districts on the same terms Mitchell proposes to the anthracite operators, by arbitration.

COLLAPSE OF HOTEL AT NAGOLD

Not So Bad as First Reported, but Bad Enough.

Nagold, Black Forest, Germany, April 6.—Fifty-two persons only were killed and seventy dangerously injured yesterday by the collapse of the Hotel Zum Hirchen. The building had not been fully completed and the catastrophe is attributed to the non-observance of proper precautions.

The roof had been put in place in the morning, an event which in accordance with the German custom, was celebrated by a feast. The guests were reported to have engaged in a dance, and this together with the large number of persons on the floor was what caused the building to collapse.

First reports placed the killed in this accident as much larger than was the case.

ingly Comes to Her Death in New York.

She was picked up with both legs broken and fatal internal injuries.

She was a beautiful young woman, and was a daughter of the late Dr. N. N. Love, a prominent St. Louis physician and writer, and at one time she was leader in society there and Louisville. Once in Louisville she married a man named Hume, from whom she was divorced.

Route Was Too Dangerous.

Richmond, Ky., April 6.—The auto line which was established between Lexington and this city some days ago was permanently discontinued yesterday. Manager Harry Power gives as a reason that it was entirely too dangerous getting up and down Clay's Ferry hill at the Kentucky river. The hill at this place is over two miles long and very steep, and at one place the curve is so sharp that the auto had to run up and then back, in order to get around the bend. Right at this angle the cliff is over 1,500 feet high.

The Saloon Boundaries.

The aldermen, at the meeting last night, discussed the question of establishing boundaries beyond which no saloons could be located. This question has been up before, and as the license expire June 1 the aldermen deem it proper that it consider the matter further. It has been decided that the boundaries will probably be from Norton street to Clay, and from Tenth or Ninth street to the river.

A representative of the shoe concern which is considering the feasibility and inducements to locate a branch of its factory in the city has been in the city this week interviewing the superintendents of the manufacturing concerns of the city with a view of ascertaining the condition of the labor supply. Alas! Poverty wears no wings.

ALL AT SEA ON POLICE ORDINANCE

Act is Now Law But What Will Become of it.

The Members of the Force Are Anxious to Know What Their Fate Will Be.

SOME OF THE LEGAL POINTS.

The aldermen last night refused to sustain the mayor's veto of the police ordinance, and it is now the law. The police commissioners will meet Monday night and will probably reduce the force to twenty men, as provided for under the law, and increase the number to thirty, as provided for under the bill passed by the legislature June 1st, when the bill becomes effective.

The question is a very complicated one, and no one seems to know what to do or what will be done. The members of the council contend that they have made their appropriation for the year and will not increase it, so the police board can increase the number of men to thirty, if they want to, but the men will have to have their salaries reduced so as to come within the appropriation.

The commissioners, on the other hand, contend that the police are appointed for one year in December, and that they were appointed last December for this year, and therefore the council cannot come in, after their appointment and reduce the force. The council, they contend, points to the fact that the legislature bill placing the number at thirty men is not retroactive, and therefore, ineffective, this year, so, they make the same point, and say the ordinance just passed by the council is amenable to the same plea.

The members of the force, as can be easily appreciated, are wondering "where they are at," and who is to be let out, if any one is let out.

To Arrest Cows.

The mayor today said he would recommend to the council that it authorize him to employ a special policeman, to be mounted, to arrest the cows and stock, when steps are taken to enforce the law, which will be in a few days now. He says it will be too much for the police, and that this would be the best way, for awhile, to enforce the law rigidly. He had some callers today from residents who live in the county just outside the city who want to know what he would do about their stock in the event it should come into the city limits. "Arrest and impound it promptly," "Your stock when it comes into the city, is amenable to our laws, and we shall certainly so deem them."

Man's Perfidy Again.

Mayfield, Ky., April 6.—Con O'Neal and his nephew Charlie, were in Mayfield Thursday morning and employed Chief McNutt to capture a man, by the name of Smith Wooley, who Tuesday night eloped with Miss Azelle O'Neal. She is a sister of Charlie and a niece of Con O'Neal. All parties concerned live at Beulah, 4 miles below Millburn.

Wooley is a married man, and when he eloped with Miss O'Neal Tuesday night he left a wife and nine children. The girl is about 20 years of age. Smith Wooley is about 40 years of age.

The O'Neals are said to be people of good circumstances and of high standing socially and the community is shocked over the strange affair. Wooley was a church worker in the Beulah section.

Big Suit for Damages.

Lexington, Ky., April 6.—Clyde Shropshire, a member of the Lexington bar, who was arrested about a week ago on a complaint by the Fayette National bank that he had forged the name of his wife, Marian Worley Shropshire, to a note for $400, has filed suit for $100,000 damages against the bank.

The grand jury, after investigation, dismissed the charge against Shropshire, and the magistrates thereupon did the same.

$9,000 IN CURRENCY.

Left On a Train By Passenger and Found By Conductor.

Ashtabula, O., April 6.—Lake Shore Conductor William R. Miles, of Oil City, Pa., who runs on a passenger train out of Ashtabula to Oil City yesterday found a valise in one of the coaches of his train containing $9,000 in currency. The bills were wrapped up in packets of $100 each. There was no name on the valise and no clue to its ownership.

Later Conductor Miles received a message to the effect that a valise containing that sum of money had been lost by William C. Iaman, of Leon, O., who had come to Ashtabula and drawn the money from the bank and had then boarded the train for home, intending to pay a large force of men, employed by him. He had left the train at Leon and forgot the valise. The money was restored to the owner at once by Mr. Miles.

PICKLE OR BURN HIS CORPSE?

Aged Man Asks Bonaparte About
Paul Jones Case.

Washington, April 6.—Secretary Bonaparte has received from an octogenarian in Oneonta, N. Y., an anxious query as to whether John Paul Jones was pickled in alcohol, and, if so, did he keep well. The letter has been answered to the effect that Jones kept well considering the lapse of years, but that the department cannot go into a discussion on the relative merits of cremation and pickling in alcohol, the question which the writer is really worried about. The letter reads as follows: "Please tell me, was Paul Jones found in a lead casket filled with alcohol and was his body in a good state of preservation?"

"I am 80 years old and favor cremation, but my children prefer the lead casket and alcohol."

LEAVES MEXICO FOR ILLINOIS.

Dowie Returning to Meet His Foes
In Zion City.

Mexico City, April 6.—John Alexander Dowie left here last night for Chicago, where he will confront the local leaders at Zion City, who have attempted to revolt against him. Dowie is in good health and spirits and is indignant at the conduct of the men, who, according to letters in his possession, were professing loyalty to him within the past week. He denies all the accusations against him and vows to have vengeance upon his traducers. Nothing, he said, could keep him from going to Chicago to face criminal or other charges which had not the slightest basis in fact. He felt confident of the loyalty of the great mass of his adherents.

Fire Breaks Out in a Mine At Calumet, Mich.

Calumet, Mich., April 6.—The lives of 400 men were endangered yesterday by fire at the tenth level of No. 2 shaft at the South Kearsarge branch of the Osceola Consolidated Mining company's property. The flames were discovered by a party of workmen in a pile of debris and old powder boxes shortly after they had finished eating their lunch. A general alarm was sounded and workmen fled to the surface through No. 1 shaft. While there is much smoke and gas underground, the mine officials hope to have the workings cleared by tonight.

MODEL INSURANCE CODE.

Act Introduced in Congress Today
Which President Approves.

Washington, April 6.—What is designed to be a model insurance code for all the states was introduced today in congress by Representative Ames, of Massachusetts, who proposes to have it enacted as the law for the District of Columbia. President Roosevelt will probably send a message to congress urging the adoption of the Ames' bill as a remedy for abuse of power and privileges by the insurance companies.

Arson Conspiracy Charge.

Calro, Ill., April 6.—A sensation of yesterday was the investigation of an arson conspiracy. The allegations were that one Johnson, a saloon keeper at Commercial avenue and 20th street, offered to bribe the "Uptown fire station" to come slowly to any fire at his place, etc. The similar offer was made to the policeman of the beat. An official investigation of council committee may be followed by court action.

DECLARES SHE IS AN EX-PADUCAHAN

Mrs Helen M. Chase Held in New York Prison.

The Charge and Her Story Are Given In a Special to The Sun.

LOCALLY IDENTITY UNKNOWN

New York, April 6.—Mrs. Helen M. Chase, a handsome Southern woman, claiming Paducah as her birthplace and saying she is the former wife of a count, is a prisoner in the Ludlow street jail. She charges her imprisonment is due to an old man's revenge. Her portrait has been painted by famous artists, and one by Theobald Chartran was exhibited recently under the title, "A portrait of a lady." Mrs. Chase, with blue eyes flashing, says the aged George H. Woodman, who caused her arrest, wishes to humiliate her because she spurned his love. He alleges after he loaned her a large lot of jewelry she threw the jewelry in a trunk, locked it and sat on the lid, defying him to touch her. She has magnificent jewels. Mrs. Chase is the handsomest prisoner ever held in the civil jail here because of litigation. She is thirty years old, tall and golden haired. She formerly had a large country home on Long Island, but speculation last fall swept away most of her property. In an interview she said: "I was the wife of Count George Chaitlier, my present husband, from whom I have not been divorced, and who lives in San Francisco. I was born in Paducah, Ky., and my family is highly connected. I have traveled extensively and am known abroad and in New York, but never before have I been brought into such an humiliating situation."

The identity of Mrs. Shaw locally could not be learned today by The Sun. Inquiries addressed to those Paducahans whom it was thought might know the woman, failed to develop whether or not she is an ex-Paducahan, though her claim to this regard may be correct.

A Zulu Wins Oratorical Honors.

New York, April 6.—A full blooded Zulu, of the race of Cetewayo and Lohengula, who gave England the hardest fighting ever had in South Africa, not excepting the Boers, yesterday won the George William Curtis gold medal, the highest oratorical honor conferred by the Columbia university.

BILL FOR POWERS

CONGRESSMAN HUGHES, OF WEST VIRGINIA, OFFERS MEASURE.

One Provision Gives the Federal Court Undisputed Jurisdiction in the Trial.

Washington, April 6.—Representative James A. Hughes, of West Virginia, introduced yesterday the bill which is intended to guarantee justice to Caleb Powers, and to all prisoners.

Immediately after introducing the bill Mr. Hughes made application to the Judiciary committee for a hearing upon it at the earliest possible date. He said that he would like to speak before the committee in favor of it, and he also requested that John W. Langley be heard.

Ollie James has asked to be heard in opposition to the bill.

There are prospects of some lively sessions of the committee when the incidents leading to the Geogel tragedy will be related and elaborated. The bill inserts the following language:

"Or whom, by reason of existing prejudice against him, or by reason of the illegal or corrupt acts of the court wherein the suit is pending, or of the officers thereof, is unable to secure a fair and impartial trial."

The bill also adds the following section to the existing act:

"This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and shall include all causes now pending for trial in any state court." The effect of this latter paragraph is to give the federal court undisputed jurisdiction over the Caleb Powers case.

President Patterson, of the Kentucky state college, is here to urge the passage of the Mondell-Patterson bill to establish chairs of mines and mining engineering at the State Agricultural Colleges. This bill will give the Kentucky college $10,000 the first year, and $1,000 annually until the appropriation reaches $20,000.

MAY ASK AID OF GRAND JURY.

Board of Health Will Have Clean City If Possible.

It is stated that the board of health will appeal to the grand jury to act in several matters pertaining to bad sanitation in Paducah, to attempt to remedy an unfavorable stand taken by some against any progressive action on the part of the board of health.

There are few instances where people absolutely refuse to meet the requirements of the board, but the exceptions often are those counting the most. Stagnating ponds and where the persistent habit of draining kitchen refuse into the gutters are matters which the board desires to have attended to. One or two indictments just to show the people that the board of health means business, is thought to be sufficient encouragement to clean up. The grand jury will not be able to take up any of these matters until after the fall cases are finished, but it is probably from the progress made this week that all fall cases will be attended to by the time the week is out.

—Friday and Saturday only we will sell 75c and $1.00 Gold filled Signet Hat Pins, good long ones, for 50c. J. L. Wanner, 428 Broadway.

BIG PARADE

WILL BE A PARTICULAR FEATURE OF I. O. O. F. REUNION.

Expected That All Local Members and Many Visitors Will Be in Line.

The local lodges I. O. O. F. intend to have a parade on April 26th, at the meeting of the Interstate lodge, which will surpass anything in the parade line ever seen in Paducah.

The municipal boards, including the school board and other public officials, have accepted invitations to participate in the parade, and the fire departments will be asked to appear also. The local lodges, 550 in number, will appear in full uniform, and this will form a line of some length.

The lodgesmen will act on the matter of securing carriages for the city officials, desiring to have everything possible added for their convenience. The object in bringing out the fire department is to show the visitors what kind of fire fighting facilities Paducah affords, and to thoroughly advertise the spirit of the citizens by the appearance of the municipal boards and city officials.

The speakers chosen by the lodge who have accepted are County Judge R. T. Lightfoot and Rev. Peter Fields. Others have been invited but have not responded. The deputy grand sire, Mr. G. Conway, of Oak Park, Ill., near Chicago, has been extended a special invitation, and will be the speaker of the day. The speaking will be at the theater.

Other details of the big Interstate meeting left to the committee are being worked out as rapidly as possible. It is announced today that the Cairo delegation cannot secure a special train on account of the Confederate reunion at New Orleans, but the morning train arriving at 7:45 will be sufficient with the addition of an extra coach or two, to bring the visitors here.

TOOK TO A BOAT.

Telephone Linemen Make New Departure in Their Work.

"Three men in a boat" repaired a telephone wire this morning in the rear of the Katterjohn brick yards. The line was down and the telephone at the extreme end out of service.

It was necessary to repair the "trouble" and at once. Neither land nor water held any terrors for the linemen and procuring a rude boat, which boys had been riding the back water in, they proceeded to repair the break.

The back water half fills the big hollows and a line of poles runs straight through. The feat of repairing the break under the circumstances was not one of any difficulty, but the novelty of throwing aside ladders and life belts and taking to a pair of oars and frail "Johnny" boat is something not usual.

THE FIRE RATE REDUCTION.

It May Follow Completion of Maps Now Being Made.

Messrs. Thompson and Buchanan representing the Sanborn Map company of New York, will in a week or two complete their work of making new insurance maps of the city, and after the map is completed the rating will begin.

Commissioner C. C. Rose will start in a short time on his annual spring inspection to note the condition of buildings in general, yards, alleys, etc. Little by little the merchants are meeting the requirements of the insurance men, and the conditions are nearing a perfection which will call for a reduction of rates. Commissioner Rose stated that he did not know at what season the reduction would be made, but presumed would start in rating as

The Paducah lodge of Beavers intend to give a novel entertainment soon. The Beavers' lodge, or dam, was organized a few months ago and is a popular and fast growing order. It will be a public demonstration of some parts of the initiation work of the local dam, and fun in plentiful quantities is assured. The entire initiation ceremonies will, of course, not be exhibited—just that portion which bears no direct significance to the lodge work—but it will be a novelty never witnessed before in Paducah—the exposure of secret order work.

HAS MEN ENOUGH

MANAGER LLOYD IS OVERRUN WITH WOULD-BE "INDIANS."

In Spite of This Fact He is Offered Daily More Good Ones.

"Chief" Lloyd already has men enough to pick three teams from, and still they come. First it was this manager, and then another, and now the latest manager to offer the Big Chief men is Jimmie Ryan, of the Evansville Central league team. Ryan wants to send Lloyd five good men whom he can not use, and yet who are good players. One is a catcher, one an infielder and another an outfielder. He has a pitcher or two he wants to throw in, and all gratis. Lloyd does not care to take on any more, and will decline the offer with thanks.

Ex-Indians Making Good.

Wiley Platt and Grover Land, recruits to the Toledo American Association team from the Indian ranks, are making good with Toledo in the practice games with the Cincinnati team at the latter city. It is said that Platt has settled his differences with Manager Grillo, and as he delivers the goods without trimmings will be kept on the pay roll regularly.

Season Tickets for Ladies.

The local baseball management has issued grandstand tickets to be sold ladies for use on ladies' day at a cost of $1 for the season. "We have done this," said a member of the association today, "as a protection to the ladies. Heretofore children and objectionable occupants have crowded the stand much to the annoyance of the ladies, and we want to obviate this nuisance. The admission on ladies' days will be free to the grounds, but a charge of 10 cents for each game will be made for admission to the grandstand. By purchasing one of these tickets, however, the price is reduced to about two and a half cents.

MAY CREATE A SALOON DISTRICT

Question Was Branches at Meeting Held Last Night.

The Police Reduction Ordinance Is Passed Over the Mayor's Veto
Other Bills.

BOARD OF WORKS ACQUISITION.

The aldermanic board last night decided to create a "saloon district," and when the time for the issuance of saloon licenses comes the matter will go into effect. No resolution or ordinance will be passed, but the application simply turned down when presented if outside the district. The district is yet to be decided on. The board also passed the police ordinance over the mayor's veto and acted on other important matters. Alderman Earl Palmer was absent.

Mayor Yelzer presented a report from Engineer L. A. Washington recommending that a 7-foot culvert, at the estimated cost of $1,000, be installed under Goebel avenue. The recommendation was passed by the board of works. The matter was referred to the street committee to confer with the board of works and engineer.

Mayor Yelzer read a communication from the board of works stating that A. G. Gilbert wanted the city to refund all street improvement expense in addition to the purchase money of $65 a front foot, if it decided to purchase the property and open Tenth street from Broadway to Kentucky avenue. Mayor Yelzer explained that the price asked was rather steep, but had been accepted by the council, and since that time the additional provision had been inserted in the proposition, and it was "up to the aldermanic board" to act.

Alderman Chamblin stated that rather than retard the opening of the street he favored paying the additional expense of street improvement, which would otherwise fall to the property owners, and made a motion to accept the proposition, proviso and all.

Opinions differed as to whether the street be opened from Tenth on Broadway or Tenth on Kentucky avenue. The former makes a 35-foot street and latter full width thoroughfare.

No proposition has been made the board from those owning property to open the street from the Kentucky avenue and Alderman Farley wanted the matter investigated.

Alderman Farley's motion was offered as an amendment to that of Alderman Chamblin. The amendment was lost and the proposition of Mr. Gilbert accepted.

A petition from residents and property owners in Mechanicsburg asking the Traction company to extend its car lines to that suburb, and asking the city to assist in granting the extension, was received and filed. Mayor Yelzer returned the 19th street improvement ordinance and the ordinance amending the license ordinance signed; and also his veto of the ordinance reducing the police force to eighteen men.

The ordinance was given third passage by a unanimous vote.

Mayor Yelzer stated that he heard it stated that the police bill passed in the legislature was understood by the republicans to be a party measure, and judging from the action taken by the two boards in passing the police ordinance over his veto the council looked at the matter in such a light.

A petition from plumbers remonstrating against the election of Sewer Inspector Bundsman, because he is not a plumber, was filed. The plumbers asked that the election be annulled and some competent and experienced man substituted.

An invitation to the board to participate in the I. O. O. F. interstate meeting April 26th was accepted and thanks voted the lodge.

The board ordered an ordinance drawn to exempt the Aycock knitting mills company from taxation as an inducement to remain in Paducah.

A remonstrance from coal dealers against the rule requiring coal dealers to weigh coal sold the city on the city scales, was received and filed.

An opinion from Solicitor Jas. Campbell stating that the power of electing or appointing sewer inspector, wharfmaster and marketmaster lies with the general council and not the board of works.

An opinion from Attorneys Hendrick, Miller & Marbit, secured by the board of works, stating that this power rests with the board of works because this board has supervision of the wharfboat market house and sewerage system. This matter originated in the board of works, some member thinking it possible to secure authority to assume control of the three officials.

Solicitor Jas. Campbell made an explanation of the stand he takes, stating that he did not think the board of works has power to supersede the council in this matter. The opinion, as presented by the board of works, was received and filed, and the aldermen took no definite action further than this. The council retains the elective power.

Mayor Yelzer stated that something should be done towards taking up stray dogs, and on his suggestion Chief of Police Collins was ordered to proceed in the matter of taking the unlicensed canines up to use the most economical method applicable. The finance committee's report showing bills accounts, etc., amounting to $9,042.88, was received and filed. The treasurer's report for March, showing a balance of $79,223.97 on hand April 1st, was received and filed.

The mayor and joint finance committee were ordered to borrow sufficient money to tide the city over until the tax collections are in.

The report of the finance committee unfavorable to appropriating $1,500 to the Commercial club for advertising the city was received and filed.

The following ordinances were acted on:

Ordinance regulating the purchase of fuel, forage, etc., for the city by advertising for bids—the goods to be weighed on the city scales. First reading.

Ordinance exempting manufacturers from taxation for five years as an inducement to locate here. Referred.

A petition for the extension of water mains on Jefferson and 20th street, was referred to the water company.

The report of Chief of Police Jas. Collins was received and filed.

G. W. Edwards and A. A. Atkins were granted a liquor license on South Third street between Kentucky avenue and Broadway.

Alderman Hubbard stated he understood that through a legislative act cities of the second class could now raise the saloon license in proportion to that of the county and state because the legislature made it possible to increase the license of state and county. Solicitor Campbell stated that the impression was erroneous. Alderman Hubbard also asked if the council might restrict the saloons to a certain district. Solicitor Campbell replied in the affirmative. The solicitor stated he would prepare a full opinion on this matter in all its phases if desired.

Alderman Hubbard moved that the committee draw an ordinance creating a saloon district.

Alderman Miller stated that he did not think an ordinance necessary; that a motion not to grant any license further than a certain boundary would be sufficient.

Alderman Chamblin did not exactly approve of this move as it might cut out old established and unobjectionable saloon businesses. The sense of the board was to acc in accordance to Alderman Miller's suggestion.

Alderman Farley moved to extend the surface water drainage sewer to be placed in between Harrison and Madison, Fourth street and the river to Fifth, now that Fifth street is to be improved. The motion was carried.

The clerk was ordered to issue a deed to Mrs. M. D. Kelley for Oak Grove cemetery property. She lost the original deed. Several other deeds and transfers of lots in Oak Grove were ratified.

The bond of Sewer Inspector Bundsman was accepted. He will immediately assume the duties of the office.

Solicitor Campbell suggested that the board make some expression relative to how it stands in regard to the control of wharfmaster, marketmaster and sewer inspector.

Alderman Miller moved to draft an ordinance placing the management of these offices in the hands of the board of works. The motion carried.

The bonds of R. F. Barnett and J. M. Miller, sanitary inspectors, were accepted.

The appointment of the Paducah Sun as the official newspaper of the city was placed on file.

The matter of granting free telephones to members of the fire department, for phones in the station houses, was opened. The phones are now installed but are paid for by the firemen. Those used by firemen who are not allowed to use phones installed for the purpose of receiving alarms. The motion for the city to pay for these phones, four in number, was adopted.

A telephone was ordered installed in the city scales office.

A committee to revise rules on the passage of ordinances in the city boards was authorized. The chair will appoint later.

The board of works was ordered to improve sidewalk and gutters on Broadway from Ninth to Eleventh streets.

An alley in the rear of the Lincoln, colored school, was ordered improved.

The street committee, board of works and city engineer were authorized to decide on minor changes in street improvements desired on Washington between First and Third streets.

On suggestion of Alderman Hank, it was decided to require carnival companies to place streets and grounds used for a site in good condition, and was favorably acted on.

Alderman Miller suggested the purchase of twelve "Caron" city directories at $4.00 each, for city officers. The motion to buy the directories was lost, Alderman Miller voting yea, against six nays.

Mayor Yelzer urged the ratification of Chief Wood's appointment of F. O. Evertz as city wire inspector, saying the city should have an inspector actively engaged.

The board is waiting on an ordinance which contains the duties of wire inspector and "building inspector" a new office to be created.

The board granted Contractor Geo. A. Gardner permission to use a city street working machine. Mr. Gardner will pay the city for the use of the machine and the board of works was instructed to let Mr. Gardner have the machine.

Aldermen Bell, Miller and Hubbard were appointed the committee to revise house rules on the passage of ordinances.

On motion, the board adjourned.

Fireman Menzler was thrown out of the fire department supply wagon and a leader in his leg ruptured. This happened shortly after the New Year. He has just recovered sufficiently to go to work.

SHOES

The shoe men are keeping up with the possession this spring, too, for there is a wealth of new styles to select from, both in shapes and leathers. The Nettleton and Stacy Adams, which we handle, are standard, and we don't need to say much about the quality of them, but we do want to call your attention to the dash and swing which is so evident in the new styles. There is an appearance of elegance about these shoes which appeals to you at once and a "feel" to them which demonstrates that elegance, after all, has been the first requisite in the designer's scheme. They come in all leathers—Patent Vici, Gun Metal and Patent Colt—either button or lace.

Our $3.50 line is a strong one. We like to show our goods to a man who is a judge of shoe leather. This season we are showing the new "Dart" and "Comet" toes, which come in Gun Metal and Patent Colt. The price is $3.50—neither too much or too little.

Don't mar your appearance Easter by wearing sloppy shoes.

AFTER months of preparation we now spread before you a feast of fine furnishings that breathes of spring buds by their very newness and freshness. This will be welcome information indeed to those who have grown tired of seeing nothing but wintry styles in haberdashery stores. Eastertide is here and our furnishing department is in full bloom with handsome neckwear in blithesome weaves and colorings that fairly sparkle with beauty; medium weight underwear in all the popular brands; new fancy hose, and so on to the end of the chapter. There are lots of things here you need.

SORTING OUT THE WEATHER

The Breaking up of Winter Brings us to the Season of Aches and Pains, the Doctor's Fat Pulse and the Graveyard's Harvest. The Need for Common Sense.

Changeable weather, cold and dampness, bring us a multitude of rheumatism and neuritis, coughs and colds all adding to the doctor's income and the death list. But don't blame the weather. The fault is with yourself. The cause is inside your own body.

The following is the known and proven cause of Spring-illnesses. In the Winter people eat meat and other foods that turn into uric acid. The uric acid accumulates in the system all Winter, and Spring comes with changeable weather. It finds the system weakened, because of an overload of uric acid, and disease results.

Physicians will tell you that rheumatism is caused by little grains of uric acid settling in the joints, that lumbago, sciatica and inflammatory rheumatism are caused by uric acid in the muscles. Uric acid settles in the membranes, causing catarrh, dyspepsia and kidney trouble. The real disease is uric acid.

Your own common sense will tell you that if the system is cleaned out, the uric acid driven out, that the disease will be cured. LIFE PLANT cleans out the system, drives out the uric acid and so it must cure. Isn't that common sense?

LIFE PLANT is the perfect solvent for uric acid dissolving it out of the joints and muscles, driving it out of the body. LIFE PLANT is Nature's Spring body and blood cleanser. Take LIFE PLANT, clean out—clean up—and keep clean.

Get a bottle of LIFE PLANT from your druggist and if you want to know more about the common sense way of curing disease write to the LIFE PLANT COMPANY, Canton, Ohio, for free booklet on good health. This book is valuable to you. Be sure and get it. Write now before you lay this paper down and forget the address.

His body was found Wednesday morning about 6 o'clock near a well in the rear of his residence, a portion of his head being torn away by a bullet wound.

There was no one at the place except Mr. Burdett, and he had been dead many hours before his body was discovered. There is no clue to the assassin.

Mr. Burdett carried life insurance policies aggregating a quarter of a million dollars.

MILWAUKEE'S MAYOR

THOUGH A "KID" IN AGE IS OF THE "PROPER STUFF"

Conducted a Whirlwind Campaign and Everywhere Routted His Opposition—Strong Support.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 6.—Tuesday's election in this city is still the talk. The mayoralty contest is the one topic and promises to be for some days. This is because Miller Becker, aged 26, overthrew David S. Rose for mayor of Milwaukee. Rose, once mentioned as presidential timber, and popularly supposed to hold Milwaukee in the hollow of his hand, has been shoved aside by the impetuous, virile and energetic young fellow who fairly made this quiet old town sizzle with his spectacular and whirlwind campaign.

"Sherbie," as everybody knows him, made an average of ten speeches a day, meeting all charges and innuendoes with ready wit and biting sarcasm, that stung his opponents, and finally bored through the lethargic hides of the citizens and set the old town inflame with enthusiasm.

Mayor-elect Becker is an alumnus of Harvard University. He is the son of President Becker, of the Marine bank. His grandfather was S. S. Merrill, millionaire official of the St. Paul railroad. He has so much wealth in his own right that grafters and hoodlums cannot approach him, and his intelligence and forcefulness make him a tremendous friend and a most formidable foe.

While yet but half-way through Harvard he fell in love with and married the daughter of Ira H. Smith. They traveled around the world, and then to make sure they had overlooked nothing on the first trip, turned and went back over the route again.

"Sherbie" came back to his home city fresh from college and crammed with ideas. He was barely past the voting age, but he plunged headlong into politics. He was nominated for supervisor from a blue stocking ward and the people laughed at his candor and thought it a rare joke.

In a few days after he took the stump they were still laughing, but not at "Sherbie." He attacked graft and hoodlums with virile tongue and arguments that were unassailable. He was elected by a very large margin.

His first net was to upset the county printing monopoly and uncover about $35,000 a year in bills that were too high. The people applauded, and the next year elected him an alderman. Then came the memorable fight over the lighting contract.

At Becker's rich friends were lined up for the private lighting contract as against the municipal plan, but "Sherbie" had no inspiration. He sent out postal cards to every voter in his ward asking who they wished him to vote on the question. They stood for the municipal plan and "Sherbie" obeyed the dictum and voted against his rich friends.

In his campaign against Rose he introduced many novelties. He plastered the walls with huge posters of himself and his policies—"A Greater Milwaukee," "Increasing War on Graft and Hoodlums." He issued a daily paper, called "Becker's Bulletin," in which he replied to the attacks upon him by the organs affiliated with the Rose party.

All the young men in the city flocked to his standard and he simply whirled Rose and his party off their feet. They are still emerging from the garbage box, too amazed to explain how it came about.

Great things are predicted for Milwaukee under his regime. It is certain that there will be strenuous doings and a hard life for grafters. He will have plenty of support and the Northwest has its eye upon him as a rising political power that will have to be reckoned with, not in Milwaukee and Wisconsin alone, but in broader fields.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SEC

It Shows the Work Done By Com the Past Year—Plans for t

Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Commercial Club:

In submitting to you a review of the work of our association for the past year, it is difficult to do so in a full and comprehensive manner so that it will give a true idea of the net results of the year's work, for the reason that preliminary work has been done, and seed sown, that will develop and mature in the future in ways that it is difficult to grasp at the moment, that will be of lasting benefit to the city of Paducah.

Advertising Paducah

Among other things many pieces of advertising matter have been sent out through the mails, advertising the advantages of Paducah as a manufacturing point, as a home place, and a city in which to do business and enjoy life, that will bring results for a long time to come, and which can hardly be appreciated by those who have NOT carefully noted the large number of responses received from this advertising.

In the past we have enlisted in a small way, the assistance of a number of our business houses in sending out printed slips in their mail matter advertising Paducah. Some fifty thousand pieces of printed matter was distributed in this way during the months of June and July last year. Including this and what we have sent out under our own postage, over two hundred and forty thousand pieces has been distributed in the last twelve months by the Commercial Club.

It is our intention to prepare a lot of suitable matter for our business people, in the way of mailing slips, to enclose in their correspondence, and we are hopeful we will be able to distribute over one million pieces to all parts of the country this year, advertising Paducah, and we ask the business people to co-operate with us to this end.

In the way of advertising much good has been done by your representatives at the various conventions that have been held the past year, where Paducah has been represented.

Conventions

At the Fourth State Development Convention held in Louisville, an effort was made to bring the next Convention to Paducah, but failed. We had the satisfaction, however, of getting our town's advantages and necessities placed prominently before the Convention and some of the financial interests of the country, and your delegates tried to impress the seven hundred and twenty delegates to this convention, and the representatives of capital, with the importance of Western Kentucky AND ESPECIALLY PADUCAH.

At the Convention held in Chattanooga to consider Immigration and Quarantine matters, efforts were successfully made to get Paducah prominently before the convention, and it is safe to say that some of the men of affairs throughout the South, including Governors, Senators and Congressmen, went away with a better knowledge of Paducah than they had ever had before.

At the Convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association held in Cairo, Paducah was well represented, but through an oversight little or no advertising was done.

The Paducah Commercial Club was represented at the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, held in Washington, January 15th, 16th and 17th, by your secretary, and some valuable advertising was done at this convention and our city was recognized by your representatives being placed upon the Credentials Committee.

Recently at the first Annual State Farmers' Institute meeting of Kentucky, held at Frankfort, Ky., Mr. W. L. Bower and your secretary had the honor of representing Paducah and McCracken County. Realizing the vast importance and benefit such a gathering of representative farmers would be to our McCracken County farmers, we worked hard and earnestly to secure the next Annual

Farmers' Organizations

State Institute for Paducah. This would mean that our State Commissioner, Hon. Herbert Vreeland, would bring to our city the ablest representatives of the agricultural interests in the United States. Men whose business it is, and who are paid by the government and the various states to work out the farming problems, along scientific lines, and to develop in practical ways the most correct and profitable methods to enable the farmers to get the best results from their farms and labor.

In no other way can the farmers of McCracken County possibly receive so much information and assistance as would be brought to them by bringing this State Institute to Paducah.

The recent organization of the McCracken County Farmers' Institute was the outcome of the attendance of your representatives at the first State Institute, and we believe, that with the co-operation of our County Institute with the Commercial Club, we will yet be able to bring the State Institute for 1907 to Paducah. It is fair to say that not one delegate that attended this recent State Farmers' Institute left Frankfort without having been impressed with the importance of Paducah and McCracken County, and the fact that we are a wide awake, ambitious, hustling and progressive people.

Now, Mr. President and gentlemen, the point in regard to these conventions is their importance to Paducah as an advertising way. They also afford opportunities for making acquaintances and forming friendships and acquiring ideas and information that are of very great importance and value to this organization, and when I say that I mean the entire city of Paducah and McCracken County, for we ought to stand in this work as one man working through this Commercial Organization, every individual being interested in doing all he can to accomplish the best possible results in promoting the progress of this, our home city.

The great regret that I have had so far as these conventions are concerned, was that where Paducah was represented by one or two delegates, other towns of a great deal less importance, have been represented by twelve or fifteen of their representative citizens which puts Paducah at a disadvantage, and I sincerely trust that at all future opportunities, larger delegations will be sent to represent our city to all important conventions that may be held, and in this connection, I believe that to bring as many of these conventions as possible to Paducah will be well worth our time and the necessary expense

As to the number of factories that have been located in this city since I have had honor of being your secretary, resulting in our advertising, we have had applications from over one hundred and seventy-five concerns and individuals, making all kinds of propositions for establishing themselves in Paducah. Some of these were doubtless seeking an opportunity to secure some valuable consideration for practically worthless propositions. However, we have had many enterprises seeking locations here that were worthy and would have been of vast importance to the welfare of our city had we been able to meet their demands in regard to the placing of stock and other valuable considerations.

Factory Locations

We have had during the last Commercial Club year a large number of visitors from other parts of the country, who have come upon our invitation to look the field over with a view of establishing some sort of enterprise here. We have had since the first of January, 1906, twenty-nine such visitors registered at our headquarters, and it is reasonable to assume that the number of visitors coming to Paducah seeking business opportunities and locations will increase rather than diminish, especially if we keep up our work in a proper manner.

Since last April we have established in Paducah the Hardy Buggy Company, who manufacture as high grade buggies as can be secured from any factory in the country. This establishment is presided over by men thoroughly competent and able and who doubtless will make a great success of this enterprise. The Hardy Buggy Company are now employing forty-eight hands and add two each week. They deserve the support and encouragement of all our citizens.

There has also been established the Paducah Box and Basket Company. This concern is now employing over one hundred hands and are steadily increasing. The management is able and experienced and this is a substantial acquisition to the manufacturing interests of Paducah.

Another factory that is almost ready for business is the Southern Lumber and Box Company. This institution will supply a long felt want for our local business interests in the manufacture of boxes and packing cases, and will employ twenty-five hands to start with, which will doubtless increase steadily under the able management which is assured.

Another enterprise that will soon be under way and which we hope and believe will be as large as any enterprise in the city of Paducah, is the Old Kentucky Cereal Mills. This enterprise has been encouraged by our citizens by a twenty-five thousand dollar bond subscription, and great things are hoped for and expected from its management.

We also have established in our midst the Aycock Hosiery Mills, an institution of importance to our manufacturing interests. This concern is now employing thirty-six hands and expect to double their capacity in the very near future. The management is experienced, and Paducah is fortunate in having this factory among the many others.

We are also able to state that a Soap Factory is being established in Paducah, that will manufacture Toilet Soaps of the highest quality. It will not only enable our home people to keep clean, but their capacity will be such that they will be able to supply the soap necessities of all this territory.

Mr. President and gentlemen I have called attention to these six factories and concerns that are in operation and assured for Paducah as a result of this past year's work, which means the employment of about 300 hands.

Negotiations are under way with a wagon maker from Memphis, to open up and operate the Paducah Wagon Works that have been idle for some time. I feel sure that the arrangement will be consummated and that this concern will afford employment to quite a few mechanics.

Prospective Factories

Today we had the pleasure of having the representatives of the Brown Shoe Company, of St. Louis, here with us, seeking a location for a branch shoe factory. We are hopeful that our negotiations with these gentlemen will prove successful, and in a few days we will be able to announce that arrangements have been definitely concluded by which they will come to Paducah and establish their factory. This would mean the employment of between four and five hundred hands and a pay roll of from four to five thousand dollars per week.

I have every reason to believe, Mr. President and gentlemen, that in a very short time we will have established in Paducah an up-to-date Flouring Mill, with the capacity of one hundred barrels per day. This matter has been quietly investigated, by very responsible parties, and I am assured that it will be a matter of only a short time until this enterprise is put under way in Paducah.

Chautauqua

Under the auspices of the Commercial Club, Mr. Jns. A. Shaw, Editor of the Chautauqua Review, of Bloomington, Ill., has worked up a sentiment for holding a Chautauqua meeting in Paducah. And arrangements have been made to this end, and we are now assured that our first Chautauqua meeting will take place the latter part of June. It is hoped and believed that this meeting will be of great interest and benefit to all our citizens and those of the surrounding country.

In addition to the factories I have mentioned that are already established, we have seen one of the largest factories in the city, the Mercantile, Horton Basket Company, double their capacity so that now they are employing two hundred hands, with a weekly pay roll of sixteen hundred dollars, and they are now putting in machines to employ one hundred more hands.

The Dixie Knitting Mills, a very important enterprise, is considering the enlargement of their plant to double the capacity which will doubtless be done in the very near future.

We have one establishment in which some of our good citizens have invested money, the Rex Manufacturing company, which has been rejuvenated, new capital and new men taking hold so that the prospects are that this concern will not only be a profitable enterprise, but one of much importance to Paducah as a manufacturing interests employing a large number of hands.

Mr. President and

SOME ODD BASEBALL ACCIDENTS

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

One of the remarkable things about baseball is the scarcity of accidents to players. In the two major leagues alone there are 300 players playing 170 days a year at least, often five or six hours a day, counting practice, and yet if even one is hurt it is heralded all over the country.

There are perhaps 1,000,000 people in the United States who play ball of some form every day from April to the middle of October—that is, one person in every eighty handles a ball during the day—and at the least estimate there are 4,000 games of ball played every day in summer, and the serious accidents do not average 25 to the season. The number of deaths reported (or that I have seen reported) in the last ten years are 14, a little over one to the year.

Broken fingers, spike wounds, bruises from batted balls and pitched balls, hard raps in the head, are numerous enough, but the wonder is that there are not more serious injuries. Blood poisoning from leg wounds, in cases where the colored stockings are driven into the legs of the players, is the most dreaded form of accident—not even barring collisions between players.

How Jimmy Connor Was Ruined for Fast Company.

Jimmy Connor, now playing down east, was ruined for major league company by an accident that came near killing him. He was at bat when Big Jack Taylor of Philadelphia sent up a terrific lushoot. Connor thought he had caught the signal for a fast curve, stepped in, and was dropped like a log, the ball striking him squarely in the temple. The injury made him timid at bat for years—but he got his nerve back and is hitting them high up and far away.

Fred Lake and a big first baseman ran together on the Kansas City grounds in 1897 while after a foul fly. Both men were going at top speed and smashed their faces and smashed their faces and bodies together, and the men both dropped unconscious to the ground. Neither man ever fully recovered from the collision, although both played afterwards. The strange feature of the accident was that when Lake was carried off the field unconscious and seemingly fatally hurt, the ball was still clutched in his hand.

Hughey Jennings, the old Baltimore star, had an odd accident at Washington once. He was playing short and went tearing across back of third after a foul fly. The field sent there are low and protected in front by a triple row of wires. Jennings made a wild running jump after the ball just as it was falling in to the bleachers and got it in one hand. He had leaped instinctively to avoid a collision with the low fence, and he went between the wires and remained suspended there, kicking and struggling, but still holding the ball. Beyond a few cuts and scratches he escaped injury.

Odd Accident On Old Baltimore Grounds.

Perhaps the oddest accident that ever happened on the ball field was on the Baltimore grounds. The outfield fence there was built slanting—that is, there was an upright fence and inside that was a platform slanting from the ground to the top of the fence at an angle of about 60 degrees. Probably it was intended to put seats there, but it was used for signs.

Willie Keeler, playing in the short right field, used to run up that fence and catch fly balls many times—but one day, in a game against St. Louis, he miscalculated. Jim Clements hit a line drive to right, high over Keeler's head and the speedy little fellow dashed for the fence and started to run along it after the manner of cyclists riding on a sloping track, going higher and higher. He saw that the ball was going over him and made a last despairing effort—but could not reach. Then, too late, he tried to save himself, and for an instant went sprinting along the very top of the fence—then disappeared.

The crowd sat aghast for an instant, then some of the other players dashed for the fence, but before they reached it Keeler, a little disheveled, climbed up and slid down into the grounds amid a roar of Bill Dahlen came near ending his baseball career in a strange way. He was at third, with Lange at bat, when Dahlen started to steal home, coming at top speed as the pitcher was winding up to pitch. The game was against New York and Roger Bresnahan, then a youngster, was catching. Dahlen relied on Lange to help him, and Lange did, stepping backwards as if to avoid the pitch just as Dahlen caromed across the plate in safety. The steal cost him dear, for Lange stepped on his leg and a shin bone cut resulted in blood poisoning, which came near costing him a leg.

Only Big League Player Bitten By a Snake.

Jimmy Connor is the only major league player who ever was bitten by a snake during a game. The game was played by the old Chicago club at Oakland, Md., against a crowd of collegians from the nearby summer resorts. Connor was playing second base and, in the third inning of the game, some one rolled an easy bouncer towards him. Just as he stooped to pick up the ball he straightened up, let out a warwhoop, jumped five feet into the air and lighted running, letting the ball go on. Walter Thornton, who was pitching ran out and killed a two foot garter snake. Connor always vowed it bit him just as he started to field the ball.

An odd accident happened one time when the Cincinnati team was playing an exhibition game at Wilmington, O., the town which Charlie Murphy recently made famous. The game was played in the fair grounds, and the back stretch of the half-mile track was cut through a clay hill. During the game Hug Holliday rapped a long drive to right and it went over the bank, and disappeared down the cut, Hug making a home run. The next batter stepped up, the pitcher pitched—and then there was a commotion—the right fielder had disappeared. He was found on the track, with all the wind knocked out of him, where he had fallen when he ran over the edge of the high bank in pursuit of Holliday's hit.

When Even Tom Tucker Was Obligated to Laugh.

Tom Tucker was the victim of an odd accident in Pittsburgh once. Back of first base, and just off the foul line is a gate through which spectators are admitted to the field in case of great crowds and one day a bonder rolled foul and went under the fence, with Tucker in wild pursuit. He tore open the gate, dashed down the alleyway and got the ball, then started back, but the gate had swung shut and four or five ardent Pittsburgh rooters were holding it there. Wagner, who hit the ball, was tearing towards third when Tucker attempted to climb the gate. He reached the top and then the rooters swung the gate open with Tom on top, and held him there until the run scored. Even Tom laughed as he came back up the field, although bruised and scratched.

ST. LOUIS MOVING HADESWARD.

Part of City Has Sunk Below the Original Level.

St. Louis, April 6.—Since the beginning of March a block of ground bounded by Pittman, Esther and Sulphur avenues, in the southwestern portion of the city, has been slowly sinking into a supposed subterranean cavern, until it is now fifteen feet below its original level.

Several families have been forced to remove from homes; buildings have fallen down and damage has resulted to the extent of $25,000.

Ten homes that are located around the edge of the depression are in great danger.

HELD THE TRAIN

Until a Kentucky Woman Cared for Baby Born On It.

Urbana, Ill., April 6.—While a Big Four passenger train was held an hour in Muncie, near Urbana, a baby was born to Mrs. C. L. Dobyns, a young Kentucky woman who was travelling from Maysville, Ky., here to join her husband.

wait, and a big cheer went up from the group outside the coach when the announcement was made that mother and child were doing well. When a physician said it was time to move, the train moved on. It was stopped in Urbana, near the future home of the young mother, where the husband had his first look at his son.

The child was christened "William Emery," in honor of Conductor William Von Wiler and Operator Emery Peterson, who were specially considerate to the mother in her time of trial.

BLOODY RECORDS

SEVEN VIOLENT DEATHS IN OR ABOUT LOUISVILLE.

How the Year's Murders, Suicides, Accidents, Etc., Calculated to Make One Shudder.

Louisville, April 6.—This place and its vicinity have been the scenes of a number of violent deaths during the first part of the new year, and Death left a bloody trail behind him. ONE he stalked through the land of the living, accidents and suicides have caused a record of frequent occurrence and the health office, which keeps daily records of the deaths, is an opportunity to read tragedies between the lines of the cold statistics.

Not all of the deaths which are reported occurred in the city limits, but the permits for the burial were secured here. Some deaths which took place outside of Louisville are given, because the remains were interred in this city. Most of the deaths took place here, however, and those who died here were buried elsewhere, so that the record is fairly complete.

The record is taken from the books of the health office, beginning with January 1, but some of the deaths took place immediately before the beginning of the New Year, but were not reported immediately.

Of the murders, it is significant to note that twelve were shooting, thus emphasizing the wisdom of the law against carrying concealed weapons. One was unusual in that it was caused by injury to the eye by a meat skewer. One was a legal execution. A phase of the negro temperament is shown by the fact that the six colored people were victims of murder, only two of the fifteen given committed suicide.

Carbolic acid is now the method most employed by those who commit suicide. Eight deaths were caused by the poison, and shooting was used with five, and one by leap under a train, this cause believed to have never been recorded in the health office before.

Alcohol was responsible for by the majority of the people who died by accident, as the number shows. Falls caused deaths, shooting four, and being three. Overdoses of medicine, an automobile and an elevator each responsible for the death of a person by accident.

Red Tailor

THE SPENDERS

A TALE OF THE THIRD GENERATION

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

"Ah! It is Madame Bines. Je suis tres honore—I am very honored to welcome you, madame. It is madame, ma femme, Celine—and—Monsieur le Baron de Pallac."

Philippe had turned with evident distress toward the latter. But Philippe was only a waiter, and had not behind him the centuries of nobility that enable a gentleman to remain a gentleman under adverse conditions.

Baron Ronault de Pallac arose with unfeigned aplomb and favored the caller with his stateliest bow. He was at the moment a graceful and alluring rebuke to those who aver that manner and attire be interdependent. The baron's manner was ideal; undiminished in volume, faultless as to decorative qualities. One fitted to savor its exquisite finish would scarce have noted that above his waist the noble gentleman was clad in a single wooden undergarment of revolutionary red.

Or, if such a one had observed this trifling circumstance, he would, assuredly, have treated it as of no value to the moment; something to note, perhaps, and then gracefully to forget.

The baron's own behavior would have served as a model. One swift glance had shown him there was no way of instant retreat. That being impossible, none other was graceful; hence none other was to be considered. He permitted himself not even a glance at the shirt upon whose fair, defenseless bosom the iron of the overcoat Celine had burned its cruel brown imprimature. Mrs. Bines had greeted him as he would have wished, unconscious, apparently, that there could be cause for embarrassment.

"Ah! madame," he said, handsomely, "you see me, I am content of the simple life. I am content of to do it—come ca—as that see you," waving in the direction of his unfinished repast. "All that magnificence of your grand hotel, there is not the why of it, the most big of the world, and such a stupefying, with its 'infernal rack' as you say. And of more—what droll of idea, enough curious, by example! to dwell with the good Philippe and his femme amiable. Their hotel is of the most little, but I rest here very voluntarily since long time. Is it that one can to comprehend liking the vast hotel American?"

"Monsieur le Baron lodges with us; we have so much of the chambers," ventured Celine.

"Monsieur le Baron wishes to retire to his apartment," said Philippe, raising the ironing-board. "Will madame be so good as to enter our petit salon at the front, n'est-ce pas?" The baron stepped forth from his corner and bowed himself graciously out.

"Madame, my compliments—and to the adorable Mlle. Bines! Au revoir, madame—to the sometime—avant peu—before little!"

On the farther side of his closed door Baron Ronault de Pallac swore—once. But the oath was one of the most awful that a Frenchman may utter in his native tongue: "Sacred Name of a Namo!"

"But the baron wasn't done eating," protested Mrs. Bines.

"Ah, yes, madame!" replied Philippe. "Monsieur le Baron has consumed enough for now. Paul, mon enfant, ne touchez pas la robe de madame! He is large, is he not, madame, as I have told you? A monster, yes?"

Mrs. Bines, stooping, took the limp and wide-eyed Paul in her arms. Whereupon he began to talk so fast to her in French that she set him quickly down again, with the slightly helpless air of one who had picked up an innocent-looking clock only to have the clanging alarm go suddenly off.

"Madame will honor our little salon," urged Philippe, opening the door and bowing low.

"Quel dommage!" sighed Celine, moving after them: "la genêt chemise blanche de Monsieur le Baron. Eh bien! il faut lui en acheter une autre!"

At dinner that evening Mrs. Bines related her adventure, to the unforgotten delight of her graceless son, and to the somewhat troubled amazement of her daughter.

"And, do you know," she ventured, "maybe he isn't a regular baron, after all!"

"Oh, I guess he's a regular one all right," said Percival; "only perhaps he hasn't worked at it much lately."

"But his sitting there eating in that—that shirt!" said his sister.

"My dear young woman, even the nobility are prey to climatic rigors; they are obliged, like the wretched low-born such as ourselves, to wear—pardon me—undergarments. Again, I understand from Mrs. Cadwallader here that the article in question was satisfactory and fit—red, I believe you say, Mrs. Terwilliger?"

"Awful red!" replied his mother—and they call their parlor a salon."

"And of necessity, even the noble have their moments of deshabille."

"They needn't eat their lunch that way," declared his sister.

"Is deshabille French for under-clothes?" asked Mrs. Bines, struck by the word.

"Partly," answered her son.

"And the way that child of Philippe's jabbered French! It's wonderful how they can learn so young."

"They begin early, you know," Percival explained. "And as to our friend the baron, I'm ready to make hook that he doesn't see him again, except at a distance."

Some time afterward he computed the round sum he might have won if any such bets had been made; for his sister's list of suitors, to adopt his own phrase, was thereafter "shy a baron."

CHAPTER XIV.

THE SUMMER CAMPAIGN IS PLANNED.

Winter waned and spring charmed the lead into blossom. The city-pent, as we have intimated, must take this season largely on faith. If one can find a patch of ground naked of stone or asphalt one may feel the heart of the earth beat. But even now the shop windows are more inspiring. At least they copy the outer show. Tender-haired shirt-waists first push up their sprouts of arms through the winter furs and woollens, quite as the first violets out in the woodland thrust themselves up through the brown carpet of leaves. Then every window becomes a summery glade of lawn, tuile and chiffon, more lavish of tints, shades and combinations, indeed, than ever nature dared to be.

Outside, where the unspooled earth begins, the blossoms are cloudbursting the trees with a mist of pink and white, and the city dweller knows it from the bloom and foliage of these same windows.

"Then it is that the spring 'get away' urge is felt by each prisoner, by those able to obey it, and by those, alike, who must wear it down in the groomed and sophisticated wilderness of the city parks.

On a morning late in May, Mrs. Bines and her daughter were at breakfast. "Isn't Percival coming?" asked his mother. "Everything will be cold."

"Can't say," Psyche answered. "I don't even know if he came in last night. But don't worry about cold things. You can't get them too cold for Percival at breakfast, nowadays. It takes a lot of ice water and a little something out of the decaeter, and maybe some black coffee."

"Yes, and I'm sure it's bad for him. He doesn't look a bit healthy and hasn't since he quit eating breakfast. He used to be such a hearty eater at breakfast, steaks and bacon and chops and eggs and waffles. It was a sight to see him eat; and since he's quit taking anything but that cold stuff he's lost his color and his eyes don't look right. I know what he's got hold of—it's that 'no-breakfast' fad. I heard about it from Mrs. Halldridge when we came here last fall. I never did believe in it, either."

"Now, why not be reasonable?" he continued, pleadingly. "You know there is plenty of food. I have observed it being brought into town in huge wagon loads in the early morning on many occasions. Why do you want to eat it all at one sitting? No one's going to starve you. Why stupefy yourselves when, by a little nervous self-control, you can remain as fresh and bright and clear headed as I am at this moment? Why doesn't a fire make its own escape, Mrs. Carstep-Jamwuddle?"

"I don't believe you feel right, either. I just know you've got an awful headache right now. Do let the man give you a nice piece of this steak."

"Don't, I beg of you, Lady Ashmorton! The suggestion is extremely repugnant to me. Besides, I'm behaving this way because I arose with the purely humorous fancy that my head was a fine large accordion, and that some meddler had drawn it out too far. I'm sportively pretending that I can press it back into shape. Now you and sis never get up with any such light poetic notion as that. You know you don't—don't attempt to deceive me." He glanced over the table with swift disapproval.

"Strawberries, oatmeal, rice, steak three inches thick, bacon, omelette—oh, that I should live to see this day! It's disgraceful! And at your age—before your own innocent woman-child, and leading her into the same excesses. Do you know what that breakfast is? No! I'll tell you. That breakfast is No. 78 in that book of Mrs. Rorer's, and she expressly warns everybody that it can be eaten safely only by atelectic-climbers, piano movers and sea captains. Really, Mrs. Wrangleberry, I blush for you."

"I don't care how you go on. You ain't looked well for months."

"But think of my great, big heart—a heart like an ox—he seemed on the verge of tears—and to think that you, a woman I have never treated with anything but respect since we met in Honduras in the fall of '93—to think you should throw it up to my own face that I'm not beautiful. Others there are, thank God, who can look into a man's heart and prize him for what he is—not condemn him for his mere superficial blemishes."

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS.

SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian has learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his roots to get well as soon as possible that he might do the work and let him hunt. Therefore, he dug "pawpaw root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not go unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and eventually effect a permanent cure. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

In Imports and Exports

Manufactures Show a Surprisingly Rapid Growth for the Year.

DETAILS REPORT OF EXPORTS

Two-thirds of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, has presented its commercial record, and the growth of commerce has been sufficient to justify the assertion that for the year both imports and exports will exceed those of any earlier like period. The exports of 1905 exceeded those of any earlier year; yet the exports of that part of the fiscal year 1906 recorded are 190 million dollars in excess of those of the corresponding months of 1905. The imports of 1905 were also greater than in any earlier year, yet the import figures for the eight months ending with February, 1906, are 71 million dollars greater than those of the corresponding period of last year.

This growth in imports and exports is shown in detail in a statement just issued by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics. It shows in exports a growth of 190 million dollars, manufactures being 45 million dollars in excess and agricultural products 143 million dollars in excess of the total for the corresponding period of last year. The large increase in exports of agricultural products occurs chiefly in wheat, wheat flour, corn, oats and provisions. Of wheat and wheat flour, the exports in the eight months ending with February, 1906, were in round terms 64 million dollars in value, against 30 millions in the corresponding months of the preceding year. The exports of corn during the eight months were nearly 20 million dollars in excess of those of the same months of last year, while oats show an increase of over 10 millions and provisions an increase of 33 millions over corresponding exports last year.

Exports in each of the great groups—products of agriculture, manufactures, the mines, the forests, the fisheries, and miscellaneous articles—show an increase over the exports of the same months last year.

On the import side all groups show an increase except articles of food, which in the eight months ending with February, 1906, amounted to but 171 million dollars against 184 millions in the corresponding months of last year, the decrease occurring chiefly in coffee, tea, and sugar.

The increase in exports of manufactures, aggregating 45 million dollars, occurs chiefly in cotton goods, which show an increase of about 8 millions; iron and steel manufactures, an increase of 16 millions; cars and carriages, an increase of 5 millions, and manufactures of wood, mineral oils and leather and manufactures thereof, each show an increase of about 2 million dollars, as compared with the same months of last year.

The rapid growth in the exportation of manufactures is illustrated by comparing the February, 1906, exports with those of February of each year during the preceding decade. It will be seen from the table which follows that the February exports in 1906 were nearly three times as great as those of 1896, while the growth in exports of manufactures for the entire eight months is correspondingly great, the total for the eight months ending with February, 1906, being 141 million dollars in the eight months ending with February, 1906.

GEMS IN SPRING SUITS

IT'S dressing up time again. Old winter has received his death blow and Easter is not far off. Welcome spring with a glad smile and a new suit. Fashion demands many changes with the new season. Last spring's clothes are now out of date. The wider and longer lapel, the clinging back---with the slightest suggestion of the "corset fit"---and a full skirt are some of the distinctions between the new and the old.

A Chinese Method.

A new method for raising funds for the erection of a church is turn-ished by a native Chinese in Chefoo, a Taoist monk of priest, who came down from China to collect money.
The incident is related by the Rev.
W. O. Elterich, a Presbyterian missionary in China who says that the monk made a vow not to eat, drink, speak or sleep until he had secured enough money to erect a temple to his gods. He lived in a cage, a little wooden box which was stationed outside of the poor house in the native city.

The cage resembles a pigeon cote with an opening of a few square inches to admit sufficient air to keep the fellow from suffocating. Through all the four walls of his house iron nails about ten inches long had been driven at an elevation even with the man's eyes. The long sharp prongs surrounded his head like a halo, the points of the nails being only an inch or so from his skull. They would certainly remind the fanatic should he become drowsy.

So far as could be seen there was but one door in the cage and that had been nailed up when the "saint" entered. Besides this the lock was sealed with paper covered with Chinese characters. When Mr. Elterich told of the matter the man had passed seven nights and days in the cage, without touching food and without sleep. He looked sickly and much worn out, and spectators were inclined to believe that if he continued his task he would not have much chance of surviving to see his temple erected. In front of the cage was a basket in which offerings were deposited, as well as a book in which donors might inscribe their names.

KENTUCKY'S PART

IN THE MAKING OF THE HISTO-RY OF THIS COUNTRY.

It Has Furnished Many of the Foremost Men of the Nation from the First.

In a recent letter "Savoyard" takes the Kentucky men of ye olden times as his theme, and of their achievements says:
"Kentuckians under George Rogers Clark, moved the boundary of the United States from the Ohio river to the Great Lakes."

"It was a Kentucky statesman — John Breckinridge — who was the real author of the Louisiana Purchase."

Kentucky made the war of 1812, and did more than her share of the fighting for it.

"Kentucky was the first state to establish common schools and support them by a tax on all the property of the state."

"Kentucky secured the free navigation of the Mississippi river."

"Kentucky gave more soldiers to the Texas revolution than any other state."

"Kentucky furnished more soldiers for the Mexican war than any other state."

"The first steamboat ever launched in the world was the work of a Kentuckian, John Fitch."

"Andrison lived in Kentucky; so did Alexander Campbell."

"Joel T. Hart was a Kentuckian
as well as America's greatest sculptor. Jonett was a Kentuckian, as well as America's greatest portrait painter."

"Thomas F. Marshall and Richard Menefee were Kentuckians as well as the finest orators of a generation of orators."

"George Robertson, a Kentucky jurist, gave more suggestions to the judiciary at Westminster than any

American Judge.

"Ephraim McDowell, a Kentucky surgeon, performed the first successful operation for ovariotomy."

"Dr. Hrashear, of Kentucky, performed the first successful hipjoint operation. These two feats astonished the medical colleges of Edinburgh,
Paris and Berlin."

"Bishop Bascom, a Kentuckian, was the first great pulpit orator our country had produced."

"Robert J. Breckinridge was the

SHELLAC ON EASTER EGGS.

Causes the Ohio State Food Department to Get Busy.

Columbus, O., April 6.—The state food department is going after those unscrupulous manufacturers who have coated the Easter eggs with shellac instead of chocolate. The department received samples of eggs today that are, supposedly, made in Cincinnati. They were sent by the inspectors here, who claim they are coated with shellac instead of chocolate. The department will investigate the matter, as shellac is detrimental to health.
